A top-down view of a white ceramic plate filled with a meal. The main focus is a piece of steak, sliced into several thick, pinkish-red portions. A silver fork is stuck into one of the slices, and a silver knife is positioned diagonally across the top of the steak. To the left of the steak, there are several bright red cherry tomatoes still attached to their green vine. To the right and bottom of the steak, there are several small, round, golden-brown roasted potatoes. A small, whole roasted garlic clove is visible on the left side of the plate. The background is a dark, textured surface, possibly a wooden table. The text "FUNCTION FOOD PACKAGES" is overlaid in the center of the image in a white, bold, sans-serif font.
